Hi. I'm Rasha Kavar and I use a wheelchair.

We need at least one accessible bathroom on each airplane. So dose about 15,000 people who signed my on line petition at www.ucp.org/rasha

Do airline companies think that people who use wheelchairs do not need to use the bathroom when they are flying? what about old people and mothers of babies and big people? if one large bathroom cost them money, then lets take all bathrooms out from planes and put more seats and make more money. If they think that millions of people who use wheelchairs don't need to use the bathroom, then they don't need to use it either. Right?
